Culturally Responsive Teaching and Learning (CRTL)

All district staff participated in CRTL training this year. Due to COVID, Dr. Sharrocky Hollie was unable to give the district a live presentation. Therefore, staff members read Dr. Hollie’s book (Culturally and Linguistically Responsive Teaching and Learning – Classroom Practices for Student Success), watched a series of videos showing Dr. Hollie giving a presentation at another school, and participated in a Zoom meeting to ask questions and receive answers.

In addition, administrators and a group of 11 recruited teachers have been receiving individual coaching from Dr. Hollie’s staff. This group is also doing a binder study with Kevin Simas, our Director of Education, to learn how to apply what they are learning to their classrooms.

Description of Dr. Hollie’s Book
Written to address all grade levels, this book provides teachers with strategies and suggestions to support their culturally and linguistically diverse students. With the influx of cultural diversity in schools, teachers can use the strategies in this resource to improve on the following five pedagogical areas: classroom management, use of text, academic vocabulary, and situational appropriateness.
